History: Hugh R. Copeland and Paul A. Dicklin established The Hurrah Players in 1984 as a not for profit 501(c)3 organization. The name "Hurrah" is a combination of Copeland's first name "HUgh" and his middle name "RAiford". Since incorporation Hurrah has flourished under the continued direction of founder Hugh Copeland, offering practical education in the performing arts to the youth and families of Hampton Roads. Hurrah's status as Virginia's Leading Family Theatre Company is verified through consistent and purposeful opportunities that are appealing, appropriate, and affordable for every member of the family. Repeated collaborations with other area nonprofits strengthen Hurrah's community presence, as well as allow students valuable "beyond the stage" experience

Leadership: With advisement from a Board of Directors, Hurrah employs a full time Artistic Director, General Manager, Development Director, Education Director and Production Manager. An Honorary Board, deemed “The Dicklin Society”, is comprised of key individuals whose significant long-term support has been instrumental to the success of the organization. Instructors and Production staff are local professionals skilled and recognized in their respective fields.

Our Company: Each year Hurrah offers over 1000 hours of performing arts education through classes, day camps and workshops. Enrollment in our educational programs is open to any person, age 5 and up, with a sincere desire to participate. With an annual average of 1,000 students, hailing from each city in Hampton Roads and beyond, we proudly represent a broad demographic. Through our Scholarship programs, > 40% of participants receive tuition assistance, as no child is denied access to our classes for financial reasons.

Participating with Hurrah is not just about being “on-stage”. The success of our students personifies with the life skills learned in our educational programs. With positive reinforcement in a professional, family-style environment, our students develop creativity, master cognitive skills, adopt positive social behavior and self-discipline and most importantly, achieve self confidence. We challenge and inspire our students in preparation for their greatest production - life! - Hugh R. Copeland

Our performing company is comprised of Hurrah students and local adult talent. Each season, Hurrah produces at least 7 full length productions. Main-stage productions play in large (500+ seating) theatres in the region. Each of these productions includes public performances and weekday matinees for local schoolchildren and groups. Other studio productions are staged “at home” in The Perry Family Theatre and at venues throughout Hampton Roads.

Student, parent and community volunteers are the heart of Hurrah Players, donating thousands of hours annually to assist with both our educational programs and development of productions.

Support: Hurrah’s revenue is generated primarily through ticket sales, tuition, and grass-root fundraising initiatives. Generous operating support is also received from The Dalis Foundation, The Virginia Commission for the Arts, The Business Consortium for Arts Support, The City of Virginia Beach and the City of Norfolk.

Financial Assistance: Hurrah believes in equal opportunity for every person with a sincere desire to participate in our educational program. We are proud to offer tuition assistance for in-need families through the Reach for the Stars Scholarship Fund. Scholarship Applications are available by request.

The two closest parking garages are MacArthur Center Garage and the Bank St. /Charlotte St Garage. There is some on-street parking available in front of The Copeland Center on Wilson Ave. Visit www.norfolk.gov/parking for maps and rates.

Venues

The Hurrah Players location on St. Paul's Blvd. in downtown Norfolk houses our main offices and hosts most of our educational activities. (We do not keep regular office hours at The Copeland Center). A touch key pad for entry is located by the front door. Hurrah families are given the access code and this code should not be shared with anyone outside of the organization.

Hurrah rehearsals take place at the main studio and The Hugh R. Copeland Center. 'Tech week' rehearsals take place at whichever venue the production is playing. The Hurrah Players scene shop is located inside The Hugh R. Copeland Center on 112 W. Wilson Ave in Norfolk. Our parade float and set pieces are stored at this location. Prior to loading in to venues for tech week, this location is where sets are built, painted and prepared for each production.

Auditions

Adults and all enrolled Hurrah students are eligible to audition for our productions. Be aware that participating with our productions requires significant commitment of time, energy and focus. With respect for the Hurrah organization and participants, please carefully consider your ability to fully commit to the demands of a Hurrah production before auditioning.

Many students are unaware of the audition process in casting a show and often feel unsure of what is expected. Here are a few tips that might help make your audition less intimidating.

- The purpose of auditions is to see each student in his or her best light, performing as comfortably as possible.
- If the show is a musical (most Hurrah productions are musicals), the student should prepare a song that best exhibits his or her vocal abilities. Students should bring an accompaniment c.d. (one without vocals; also called instrumental or 'karaoke'), or have someone accompany you live on the piano. A great source for appropriate music is www.musicalcreations.com
- Acting auditions include reading from a script. The student should be aware that we are looking for characterization, projection, vocal expression, the ability to take direction, and the ability to relate to the other actors. Often students are asked to do improvisations which allow the student to concentrate on the emotion of the scene.

- Regarding dance and movement auditions: the students are given routines and steps consistent with the requirements of the show. Frequently the dance for groups is not difficult and simply demands rhythm, counts and stage presence. At other times, dances may require more trained students with specific abilities.
- Often we have many qualified performers for limited roles, making auditions difficult for the casting panel. Therefore, in addition to specific talents of each student, we must cast with demands of the script (age, size, type of voice, etc.) and availability of the student for rehearsals and performances.
- Auditions are by appointment only. The date(s) for auditions are typically 6-8 weeks prior to the performance.
 - Call the office to schedule an appointment.
 - Arrive at least 20 minutes early for appointment in order to complete an audition form
 - Write legibly on the audition form and be honest about schedule availability and prior commitments
 - A panel of judges will review your audition piece
 - Only the casting panel and those auditioning shall be present in the audition room. Parents and guests should remain in the waiting area.
 - Occasionally, the panel will need to see the student for second audition, known as a “call back”. This does NOT mean a call on the telephone. It means we need to see the student audition again.
 - Call back and casting information is provided on the Hurrah Family web site “Team pages” . It is the responsibility of the student to check for this information. We do NOT call the students to notify of casting status.
 - Students not cast in the production are encouraged to seek feedback from the Artistic Director.

Production Etiquette & Responsibility

Not everyone who auditions for a performance is cast, so please understand being cast in a show is a privilege and responsibility. “There are no small parts, only small actors!” If your role was not important, we would not cast you. Productions are successful when everyone works together in a positive manner. Each Hurrah Player should actively support and promote the production and organization, on stage and off.

- Cast members are expected to attend, on time, all scheduled rehearsals and performances.
- Respect the directors and stage managers as authorities.
- Respect and actively support your cast and crew.
- Check your mailbox and Call Board daily (on Teampages).
- Sign in for each rehearsal/performance.
- Have pencils for blocking rehearsals. Bring your music and scripts to rehearsals.
- Be proud of your work. Work on it until it becomes outstanding.
- When not on stage during rehearsals, do not talk in the rehearsal hall/backstage.
- Learn to take criticism gracefully and gratefully.
- Become aware of your progress and show a desire for improvement.
- Concentrate. Be happy, thoughtful, cooperative and pleasant.
- If illness or emergency arises, please contact the Hurrah office ASAP to alert of your tardiness or absence.
- Parents/guardians are not expected to attend rehearsals with their children but must be prompt in dropping off and picking up. Hurrah is NOT responsible for students before/after rehearsals.
- Cast and Crew should respect their performance space and dressing rooms. Keep belongings properly labeled, contained and orderly. Do not touch/move other people’s belongings/costumes/props.

- If parents/guardians choose to stay during rehearsals, please do not distract or interrupt the process. The director(s) will ask for help if they need it. Director(s) have the authority to close rehearsal at any time to families/guests.
- Please do not challenge or undermine the decisions of the director (s) by performing or encouraging your child to perform in any way they have not been instructed. If there is a question or concern about you/your child, please ask to speak to the Director(s) and/or Production Stage Manager before/after rehearsal/performance.
- During tech week and performances: ONLY CAST AND CREW ARE ALLOWED BACKSTAGE. (Young children in the cast will be allowed to have one adult parent/guardian assist with pre-show preparations but then must exit backstage by ½ hour prior to performance.
- Please ask family, friends and guests to meet you in the theatre lobby after the show.
- During tech week and performances: CAST AND CREW ARE NOT ALLOWED IN THE HOUSE (Unless authorized by Director, cast and crew are not permitted to watch from the audience.)
- Do not ask/attempt entry to venues before scheduled call time
- No food or drink in the theatre or dressing rooms & Only water allowed onstage
- No sitting or obstructing the stairwells in the theatre, lobby and backstage
- Venue access during rehearsals for everyone is through the back stage door only
- Venue access during performances for talent and tech staff is through the stage door only

Materials

Costumes, props, music, scripts and other educational and production materials are property of The Hurrah Players. During productions and certain educational activities, materials will be loaned to students. These items are to be respectfully cared for and returned promptly upon completion of activity. Students should not ‘help themselves’ to any Hurrah materials without prior express permission and guidance from Director and/or management.

Comps/Discounts

Tickets for actively enrolled Hurrah students are $10. Cast members of a current production may request, in advance, 1 complimentary ticket. Volunteers working backstage (Stage crew, fly rail etc.) and House Manager(s) may request, in advance, 1 complimentary ticket. These requests must be done in advance of Opening Night- via phone or in person. Volunteers working Front of House positions (Usher, concessions etc.) do not receive complimentary tickets but may occupy vacant seats after the performance has begun. Photography/Videos

Photographs and/or video are occasionally taken of students and/or families during class time, rehearsals or performances which may be used in Hurrah’s promotional materials including media releases/advertisements and grant proposals. These images will be used without further consent or compensation. Photography and or video recording of any kind are strictly prohibited during live performances. Only Hurrah management can approve the capturing/reproducing/posting of performance images/recordings. Hurrah typically offers a professionally recorded DVD of each production which can be purchased by cast and crew members. These recordings are not for sale to the general public.

Weather & Make-Up Classes

Hurrah does not often cancel classes and/or rehearsals for inclement weather. If conditions are severe, we typically follow the recommendations from V.D.O.T., the city of Norfolk and/or the Norfolk School system. If cancellation is necessary, we will post to the Hurrah Family web site. We do not post cancellations to our public web site. When possible, Hurrah will offer make-up classes and/or rehearsals. Under no circumstances should anyone risk their personal safety or well being to attend Hurrah activities.

Responsibility & Safety

The Hurrah Players, Inc. will assume no responsibility for any injury or illness incurred by any participant or for any loss or destruction of personal property while on the Hurrah premises or at any Hurrah sponsored activity. Any adult convicted of a felony or any offense involving the sexual molestation, or physical or sexual abuse, or rape of a child, or convicted of a crime of moral turpitude, is not permitted to engage with minors at any Hurrah sponsored activity.

Get Involved

In order for our organization to thrive, we rely on the entire family for support. To keep fees to a minimum, we regularly ask for assistance from our families for volunteer service and/or donations. Volunteers help clean our building, work on productions*, assist in the office and more. Donations of restroom supplies, printer paper and blank cds are always accepted. Please help our family in any way that you are able. 'Many hands make light work!' Most volunteer hours and supply donations equal Star Points. Star Points can be exchanged for discounts on tuition and performance tickets. For details on the Star Point opportunity – please talk to our Production Manager. Additionally, if you or someone you know is interested in making a monetary donation or becoming a sponsor of The Hurrah Players- please let us know!
